Directions

- Using a book or your Bible, measure how long you need to cut your first piece of felt. Fold the felt around the book. This will need to cover the entire outside of the book, leaving about $\frac{1}{4}$ "- $\frac{1}{2}$ " around the edge. (Figure A)
- Once you know what your measurements are, cut your first piece of felt. Mine was 9.5" by 14".
- Then cut two pieces for the inside flaps that will hold your book in place. Mine were 4" by 9.5". (Figure B)
- Using the Bible or book again, find the center of the 9.5" x 14" piece and mark it. Do this step on the inside so that it's not very visible. (Figure C)
- With a ruler and marker measure and cut a strip of Prickly Purple felt. Use a template or draw free hand initials. Cut out the cross strip pieces and initials for the cover. (Figure D)
- Bring out the sewing machine and sew the cross and initials on the front. Fabric glue could also be used in this step. (Figure E)

8. To give it a finished look, use a top stitch around the entire cover. (Figure G)

9. When it is all sewn, insert the cover and the back of book into the inside flaps of the felt cover. (Figure H)
